

AYUDANTE

POWERED BY PEOPLE ■■■■■■

Mission Statement

‘To create opportunities for local disadvantaged people, by offering in-house employment, work placements, training and development to help individuals progress into the future job market.’

Ayudante is experienced in mechanical and electrical sub-assembly and we have the ability to support low to medium volume, with low to high complexity. We cover many sectors, including: automotive, off-highway, commercial vehicle, leisure (bicycle and e-bikes).

We are a Community Interest Company dedicated to providing meaningful employment to disadvantaged people via our sub-contract manufacturing facility in Stoke-on-Trent.

Component kitting and packing

Rather than shipping each part separately, clients often find it very helpful for those parts to arrive as a “kit”. This process, in which individually separate but related items are grouped, packaged and shipped together as one unit, is referred to as component kitting. We provide kitting services and kitting solutions to meet a wide variety of customer needs. This ability to manage multiple parts for our clients is suitable for a wide range of materials.

Electromechanical assembly

Working to your specifications, Ayudante offers sub assembly activity to compliment your production demands. With the ability to support low to medium volume, with low to high complexity, Ayudante promises to deliver against a schedule or on a Kanban (pull system).

Quality sorting

Ayudante has worked with an array of Original Equipment Manufacturers and suppliers to address ongoing needs for sorting, inspection and containment. We can sort and inspect your parts, whether you have a handful of parts or several thousand, regardless of how complicated they are. We are here to protect the end customer from defective parts.

Contract Packing

This can range from re-labelling to repacking of a product into branded packaging. Contract packing has been our core service since the business was established, and in this time we have invested in an extensive portfolio of state-of-the-art packing equipment. We offer variable output depending on your requirements, and have served customers of all sizes. Our packing services include:

- Case Wrapping
